

Ultra Prep Surface Cleaner

Aerospace Coatings

Prepare any surface for paint

Ultra Prep Surface Cleaner is a water-based cleaner designed to provide excellent cleaning performance throughout your painting process. Ultra Prep cleans surfaces with little or no streaking and zero residue left on your part.

Ultra Prep Surface Cleaner is designed for surface preparation prior to final paint. It is ideal in removing any hand oils, light grease, or other light surface contaminant that will impact the finish of the final paint job. Ultra Prep can be applied to substrates by either a two-cloth cleaning method or by spray application.

Application

Two Cloth Cleaning Method for Application:

- The surface should be cleaned thoroughly of all dust. Use a vacuum or clean, dry compressed air to blow while wiping with clean, oil free, dry cotton cloths.
- Soak one cloth in AkzoNobel Ultra Prep Surface Cleaner. Use the cloth to wet the surface.
- Use a dry second cloth to wipe the surface dry and lift the contamination off the surface.
 - Work small areas (4 ft² / 0.4 m or less) to keep the surface cleaner from drying before the second rag wipes the surface clean and dry
- Repeat steps, changing rags frequently, until the surface is residue free.

Spray Application:

- The surface should be cleaned thoroughly of all dust. Use a vacuum or clean, dry compressed air to blow while wiping with clean, oil free, dry cotton cloths.
- Spray AkzoNobel Ultra Prep Cleaner directly onto the surface to be cleaned.
- Use a dry second cloth to wipe the surface dry and lift the contamination off the surface.
 - Work small areas (4 ft² / 0.4 m or less) to keep the surface cleaner from drying before the second rag wipes the surface clean and dry.
- Repeat steps, changing rags frequently, until the surface is residue free.
